Newsletter for 22 July 2018

Welcome to church today. We hope and pray that you will enjoy your time here and that you may encounter the presence of the living God. If you are a visitor then the following information may be helpful.

- We have a loop system, if appropriate switch hearing aids to “T”.
- We have large print copies of most worship material – please ask.
- Gluten free wafers are available – please request before the service begins.
- Whatever your tradition, you are welcome to share in Holy Communion.
- Toilet facilities are available including baby changing and disabled facilities.
- We hope you will join us for refreshments after the service.

Please take this sheet home with you!

John Hansen Astrid, Phil, Lynda and Chris want to thank everyone for the wonderful support we have had throughout John's illness, for all the visits and messages and for all that everyone did on Thursday to leave us with the best possible memories of John's funeral.

Bible Course There will be an opportunity in September to attend an 8 week Bible Course. The posters are going up in the churches now. Initially we are offering Thursday evenings, starting on 13th September and Saturday mornings with a creche starting Saturday 8th September. If a lot of people are interested then there is a possibility that we could offer another session at a different time. Please would people who are interested sign up on the notice board, to attend either the Thursday evenings or the Saturday mornings or in the section for 'would be interested at a different time'.

You Are Invited to a Churches Together Picnic Day at the Riverside near the Cavendish Pavilion, Bolton Abbey on Saturday 11th August from 10am until 4pm. All are welcome. Bring your own tables, chairs and picnic.

CPR training Don't forget Anne Raine's training at St. Matthew's on Wednesday 25th July and Wednesday 8th August at 7pm. You might save a life!

St. Saviour's Flowers kindly donated today by Doreen Baxter to remember Geoff's birthday

Jamie's Ministry of Food closed its central Bradford operation in January after it fell victim to council budget cuts. Over the previous eight years it had taught thousands of people to cook healthy, nutritious meals from scratch using fresh produce from local markets. Fortunately, the project has been rescued by Inn Churches, the Bradford charity which helps those who are homeless or vulnerably housed, and through its Storehouse project, collects, stores and distributes surplus food to people in need.

Julie Thompson, the CEO of Inn Churches, said, "Many of the groups and communities we work with have identified food poverty as a key issue and working with the Ministry of Food will enable us to help and support individuals to feed themselves well no matter what their budget – with all the health and social benefits that brings."

The Ministry of Food and Inn Churches teams will work together to offer eight-week cooking courses, master classes, school lessons and community events at the Storehouse café in Caledonia Street on the edge of the city centre.

Google "Cooking at the Storehouse" for more information.
